WHO AM I AND HOW MAY I HELP YOU?

Experienced professional, with above average communication skills, specializing in WordPress front end design and development.

A passion for managing content, pixel perfection and the clear presentation of information.

A Freelancer for nearly twenty years who has retained a core group of clients.

Offering dedicated service, quick turn around time, strong attention to detail and reasonable rates.

Available for part time or contract work, at your office or remotely from my home office.

Looking to expand my current skill set with exposure to e-commerce technologies, search engine marketing and/or plugin development.
